

FUNCTION

- 1802 is a 'Push on the arm' mechanism
- KD back brackets allow easy back removal and handing
- Available for various seat widths
- Application for mid leg chairs
- Geometrically balanced to recline from TV position to full recline position
- Allows for extra deep seating

ADVANTAGES

- Leg extending spring enhances the supporting force and self-locking performance of the footrest
- Optimal benched components on legs for flexibility and conciousness
- Applicable to convex stamping instead of spinning rivet, enhancing riveting force

IMPROVEMENTS

Leg extending spring strengthens the supporting force of footrest when the leg is stretched out and ensures better self-locking performance when the leg is retracted.

The optimization of benched components on legs benefits to smooth operation and concise appearance.
